

1) Opening statement (9:30-9:35)

Chairman of the Electronic Information Committee, Takeo Ishigaki (Nagoya University)

2) Panel discussion 1 (9:35-12:00)

IHE (Integrating Healthcare Enterprise) in Japan - Road to the Integration of Medical Information

Coordinators: Seiya Inamura (Osaka University)

Nobuo Okazaki (University of Arizona)

1. Current situation and problems related to the standardization of medical information in Japan, by Michio Kimura, Hamamatsu University School of Medicine
2. Problems in the Industries association, by Minoru Hosohane, Shimadzu Corporation
3. Problems at hospitals, by Masato Tanaka, Department of Radiology, Fukui Medical University
4. Radiological examination and its standardization, by Hiroshi Nishitani, Department of Radiology, Tokushima University
5. Efforts for the integration of medical information in Japan, by Hiroshi Ando, Department of Radiology, Keio University
6. Promotion of IHE-J, by IHE-J Establishment Preparatory Committee

3) Panel discussion 2 (13:30-16:00)

Accuracy control of CRT monitors at hospitals - CRTs are expendable

Coordinators: Kazuo Miyasaka (Hokkaido University)

Hiroshi Ando (Keio University)

1. Basics of CRT monitors, by Kiyoto Fujioka and Yoshikazu Nishi, Totoku Electric Co., Ltd.
2. Accuracy control and consistency check at shipping of products, by Isao Obayashi, System Dept., JIRA
3. Accuracy control from the viewpoint of clinical engineering, by Yoshie Kodera, Department of Healthcare, Nagoya University
4. Accuracy control at hospitals, by Yoshiharu Hirata, Department of Radiology, Tottori University
5. Requests from the clinical point of view, by Yasuo Sasaki, Department of Radiology, Iwate Prefectural Central Hospital
6. Degradation of monitors and simple methods to learn the examination limitations, by Takeo Ishigaki, Department of Radiology, Nagoya University